

Gab - User manual

1. Getting started

Connecting to the wifi

To be able to match with people on the same bus gab checks whether you and the other users are on the same network. It is therefore important to log in to the wifi of the bus you're on.

Logging in

When you open the app for the first time you will be prompted to log in using your facebook account. The app uses facebook to get your interests so that gab can compare what you like on facebook with other users. Once you've logged in with facebook you will be directly directed to the Match screen. After you've logged in for the first time you will automatically be logged in and directed without having to log in again. For debugging purposes the login screen also contains a "developer login" button that will log in with a makeshift account if the user do not wish to log in with their facebook account. This is only for developers, and would not exist in the consumer version of the app.

2. Navigation

The first thing you see when you've logged in is the Match screen. There are two tabs titled "Match Skärm" and "Mina Matchningar" respectively and an underline of one of them showing your current position in the application. To navigate between these tabs you can either press one of them or swipe your finger across the screen like you're turning pages in a book.

There is also a "settings" button where you can log out in the upper right corner.

3. Matching

To start searching for matches simply press the button on the bottom of the screen (crosshair) on the tab “Match Skärm”. Once it’s finished searching you will be shown a “card” with the person you have most in common with on that bus. You can now read about the interests you and that person have in common.

If you feel like this is a person you would like to talk to you can simply press the button in the lower right corner to show that you would be interesting in talking with them. If they would do the same with you, it’s a match!

After you’ve either chosen to “like” or “dislike” the person you will be shown the person with the second most common interests to you. This will go on until you’ve gone through each person on the bus.

Once you’ve gotten a match they will be added as a person in your “Matches” list (second tab).

4. Matches and chat

The second tab will give you the list of the people you’ve matched with in the past. It’s important to notice that you’re only able to match with people on the bus, but you will have them on your “Mina Matchningar” list forever (or until one of you removes the other).

To update the list of matches simply drag the list downwards.

You will notice that each person in your list either has a green ●, blue ● or grey ● dot next to their name. The green dot indicates that the person is currently on the same bus as you are. The blue dot indicates that they are on a bus right now, but not the one you're on. The grey dot indicates that the person isn't currently on any bus.

You can press any person in the list to enter a chat with that person at any time.

Once you press someone you'll notice their name popping up as a third tab. Here is where you're able to message that person and start gabbing.

The chat log will be saved so there's no need to worry about your messages being erased.

If you for any reason don't want this person to be one of your matches you can simply press and hold their name on the "Mina Matchningar" tab and you will be given the opportunity to delete this particular match.
